A This office, next door below Crawford's tavern. Bridge-st. Georgetown, will exchange all kinds of Bank Notes on the most reasonable terms.—All persons who may have notes on the banks of North Carolina. South Carolina and Georgia, would do well to call on him, as he is largely in the purchase of that kind of money, and will take it on the most reasonable terms.—Persons travelling to the Western Country may at all times get the Bank Notes of the Western Banks at a fair discount, by calling at his Office. For the information of all persons throughout the U. States. R. Riggs makes it known, that all of the Banks of the Distrist of Columbia pay their notes on demand in specie; and it would be much to the advantage of the merchants, and travel to the South and west, to encourage the circulation of the Notes of the Banks of Georgetown, Washington and Alexandria, as it will at all times answer for remittances to the large commercial and Atlantic towns;—all persons emigrating or travelling to the westward should be very particular and take the Notes of the Banks of the District of Columbia, as they will find them the most current, there being no counterfeits on the District Banks. The Merchants' Bank of Alexandria has long since failed—all persons should be on their guard, as they will be imposed on.

Baltimore Hospital, 1

Baltimore Hospital,

24th August, 1818.

THE board of visitors have much pleasure in announcing to the public, that within the last eighteen months, a large and elegant addition has been made to this valuable institution, in the erection of the East wing of the building. This wing is 152 feet in length and 36 in width, with an extensive Southern projection at its extreme East end. It contains between 30 and 40 apartments, admirably calculated for the accommodation of every class of patients. Of this number are several large and airy wards, intended particularly for the reception of seamen, and well adapted to their various diseases. These different rooms and wards will be warmed by open fires, and by heated air thrown into them, from furnaces constructed on a safe and improved plan. Arrangements will also soon be made, for lighting the apartments in the entire building, with gas.

The unwearied exertions of Doctors Mackenzie and Smyth, the attending Physicians of the Hospital, in their attention to the construction of the building, and their care of the sick, have given a character to this Institution, which is now inferior to none in the United States. In the short space of six years, a most noble establishment has been erected—a thing without parallel in this country. It is well known, that above half a century has been consumed, in bringing the Hospitals of New-York and Philadelphia to their present size, and it is admitted by many gentlemen, who have visited these linalitations, that the Hospital here, is by far the most extensive; the whole building being now 360 feet in length.

The daily increase of the sick in the Hospital, renders it absolutely necessary that the new wing should be furnished; and every exertion is now making, to have it completed, before the cold weather shall set in.

The visitors at their late meeting, examined the lustitution with much care—the annual ment of the sick in the proventionals of the sick in the proventionals of the sick in the proventionals of the sick in the provention

The visitors at their late meeting, exa-mined the Institution with much care—the apartments of the sick in the private infir-mary—those in the lunatick asylum—and the wards of the sick and disabled seamen mary—those in the lunatick asylum—and the wards of the sick and disabled seamen in the Marine Hospital—and they assert with confidence, that the sick and afflicted of every description are well accommodated and carefully attended. They have seen at their different meetings, the private patient comfortable: the wretched marine humanely taken care of; and the sailor, disabled by age, wounds and sickness, well provided with suitable medical assistance, and witherery other comfort which his condition may require. Indeed the agreeable situation in which this very useful class of men are placed, does much credit, as well to the Director of the Marine Hospital, as to the attending Physicians, to whose immediate care they are entrusted. Every praise too, which the visitors can bestow, is due to Mr. & Mrs. Gatchel, the Stewart and Matron of the Hospital, for the neat and clean manner in which the House is uniformly kept, and for their care and attention to the administration of the internal economy of the establishment. to the administration of the internal economy of the establishment.

Before they conclude this account of the Hospital, the visitors would invite the attention of their fellow citizens throughout the United States, to the Anatomical Cabinet of Wax Preparations, by Chiappe, which certainly far surpasses any thing of the kind ever exhibited in this country; and will afford to those whose curiosity may lead them to see how "fearfully and wonderfully they are made," but more especially to the medical student, a fund of useful information.

The following is published for the information of Parents:

HAVING long believed that a School on a plan different from most others in many respects, would be beneficial to society, and apprehending that with all its cares, and the responsibility inseparable f. om such a concern, I. could more cheerfully devote my time to the education of cheldren than to any other bigsness; I have concluded to establish a BOARDING SCHOOL for GIRLS.—With this view I have purchased the Parson Greek Pans, four miles cast of the yellow springs, on the Nerristown and Philadelphia road, situated in Pikeland and Viscent townships, Chester county, twenty seven miles from Philadelphia; combining many conveniencies for the support of such an institution; and having let the farm, etc. in a way calculated to supply the family with provisions, I propose to devote my attention, with the aid of suitable assistants, to the education of the children who may be placed under my care.

education of the children who may be placed under my care.

In selecting the pupils, it is not proposed to be governed entirely by their ages, nor to require that they shall all he members of the religious society of Friends; but as the school rules will be very few in number and very simple, it is my wish that none may be sent contrary to their own inclination, nor any one who would not be likely to be good examples to the other scholars, and treat them with kindness and affection.

The price for board and tuition will be two hundred Dollars per annum, one quarter always to be paid in advance—no restrictions respecting the kind of clothing are intended, nor respecting the frequency of the changes that parents may require; the washing will be charged at the ordinary price per dozen—children may be alimited for one quarter only, and such as are entered for a longer period, may nevertheless be removed at the expiration of any quarter—The communication with Philadelphia will be frequent and easy by stage, and a house of entertainment kept by the farmer for the accommodation of persons having business at the school.

A late London paper contains the following curious adventure of a French Ventriloquist, at Fryburg, in Switzerland. So great was the ventriloquism among the peasentry of that country, that in the above named town, they were on the point of throwing him into a lighted oven, taking him for a sorcerer, as such only good to be burned. When he had the presence of mind to frighten them still more in this critical moment, by causing to come forth from which had such an effect on their credulity that they threw him down; and he em-bracing the opportunity, collected all his strength and ran off as fast as his legs could [Charleston Times.

What I am now going to relate is but a simple story, and it is probable one of you may have heard me tell it beforeit has taken such possession of my mind, that I thought I would just drop it for your consideration. When I was a young man, there lived in our neighborhood a Presbyterian, who was universally reported to be a very liberal man, and uncommonly upright in his dealings. When he had any of the produce of his farm to dispose of, he made it an invariable rule to give good measure, over good, rather more than could be required of him. One of his friends observing his frequently doing so, questioned him why he did it—told him he gave too much, and said it could not be to his own Now my friends mark the answer of this Presbyterian. God Almighty has permitted me but one journey through to rectify mistakes. Think of this, friends -but one journey through the world-the hours that are past are gone forever, and actions in those hours can never be recalled. I do not throw it out as a charge, nor mean to imply that any of you are dishonest, but the words of this good Presbyterian have often impressed my mind, and I think in an instructive manner. But one journey—we are all allowed but one jour-pey through the world; therefore, let none of us say, "My tongue is my own, I'll talk just what I please.—My time is my own, I'll go where I please; I can go to meetings, or, if the world calls me, I'll stay at -it's all my own." Now, this wont do, friends. It is as impossible for us to live as we list, and then come here to wor-ship, as it is for a lamp to burn without oil. It is utterly impossible. And I was thinking what a droll composition man is. He is a compound of bank notes, dollars, cents, reigner to Scotland a full idea of the chaand newspapers, and bringing as it were the world on his back, he comes here to perform worship, or at least world have it appear so. Now friends, I just drop it he-fore we part for your sonsideration, let fore we part for your consideration, let each one try himself, and see how it is with

It is principally in the poetical and belle attres publications of the day that is to be

Religion, or what passes under the pred name, has latterly taken such colos strides, and assumed such an austere aspect, that for my own part I affect not to follow her; for the day when Blair's Ser-mons, as well as his Lectures, were much read and deservedly admired, has passed by and I regret it. (The best negative description of a preacher that I ever me with is in that moral writer Cowper's Task.)

The labored critque on the Loo-Chooans, which sometime ago appeared in your columns, must have palled the readers of voyages .- Apropos, an amiable, pure, virtuous, simple people of nature, inhabiting second Arabia Felix, who treat their wives, or women, far worse than Mussulmen do, is most interesting sentimental verbage. For my own part, the history of the Chuans of "la Vendee," by their beroine commander La Roche Jacqueline, is infinitely more attractive, I think.

We come then to poetry. It is gratifying to live at a period whe such poets as Byron, Scott, Moore, Campbell, and Southey, write † Of the minor posts I speak not—the lake poets, † as they are jeeringly called in England, from their affecting to sequester themselves on the lakes of Westmoreland to compose. However, Crabbe ranks above them most certainly.

The Aristarchus or Bentley of the day, under whose critical acumen these authors, rather their productions, come, is Jeffrey, who holds that department in the Edin burgh Review.

In his criticisms of Byron, Jeffrey evidently approaches him with tear; for the dreadful scourging, exceeding even the caustic of Pope's Dunciad, which he received from that author in his "English Bards and Spotch Reviewers," seems ever before him.

On the contrary, with Scott he is per sonally intimate, comes in contact with him every day .- Independent of this, however, as a matter of indulgence, the public taste, or feeling, or fashion, for Scott's productions, far outstripped all coldness or severity of criticism; for the poetry was new the style easy and natural, and the subjects ascinating. The general reader tript anong roses, and did not labor through the owering beauties of Byron's Alexandrine.

Campbell's works must be admired, and we find that the Edinburgh reviewer so feels.

Moore is eqally fine, and equally displays that "vivida vis animi" of Horace, in his several styles of poetry; but he possesses more versatility of powers.

On political principles, the Edinburgh Review opposes the Quarterly; therefore Southey, who it is known contributes to the latter, and in a style of considerable asperity, cannot expect much indulgence from

Yet in criticising his "Don Roderick the ast of the Goths," be shows much liberali-Indeed it could not well be otherwise: for it is certainly a first rate poem, abounding with many beauties, and is by far the finest of Southey's productions.

While the three kingdoms thus pretty nearly divide poetical renown, Scotland' novelist stands unrivalled. Miss Edgeworth has certainly great merit in her writings But the publications which are preceded by Rob Roy, all by the same pen, are of a cas so far above, and so far unlike the general trash of novels, that they have already ta ken their place as standards, certainly in the eye and in the feeling of every nativ of Scotland. For if they be admired by those of England and of the United States. with what superior gusto must they be enjoyed by Scotchmen, or by those wh fully comprehend that vernacular, in which is conveyed that characteristic humor, pitl and naivete which inspirit these novels, acter of Ba lie Nicel Jarvie of Glasgow the admirably drawn character of a Scotch Lowlander, contrasted with that of his cou-sin the Highlander, in the person of Mac Gregor, the hero of the tale.

VERDICT OF A NEW-JERSEY JURY. On Thursday last, at the circuit court of the state of New-Jersey, held before his honor Chief Justice Kirkpatrick, at Newark, came on for trial, the case of Col. Aaron Ogden vs. Thomas Gibbons, late of Savannah, for trespass, quare clausum fregit, and posting up against the front door of his house, an infamous libel. In evidence, it appeared, that in Col. Ogden's absence Gibbons entered his dwelling-house, and posted up on the outer door, which opened nwards, the paper in question. The trial occupied two days. The jury, after con-sulting together about half an hour, returned with a verdict for five thousand dollars, being the whole amount laid in the declaration. The cause was ably opened by Mr. Hornblower, and summed up by Messrs. Stockton and Frelinghuysen, ob the part of the plaintiff, with great eloquence; and the defence by Mr. Hasley, was attempted with great ingenuity. The public, indignation was greatly excited against the defendant, who was present the whole time.

Report says, that in the vicinity of Ellisburgh, was seen on the 30th uit. by a gentleman of unquestionable veracity, an animal resembling the Yo-ho or Wild man of the woods. It is stated that he came from the woods within a few rods of this gentleman—that he stood and looked at him, then man—that he stood and looked at him, then took his flight in a direction which gave a perfect view of him for some time. He is described as bending forward when running; bairy; and the heel of the foot parrow, spreading at the toes. Hundreds of persons have been in pursuit for several days; but bothing further is heard or seen of him.

The frequent and positive manner in which this story comes, induces us to no-ice it. We wish not to impeach the veratice it. We wish not to impeach the vera-city of this highly favored gentleman—yet, it is proper that such naturally improbable, if not impossible events, should be estab-lished by the mouth, of at least, two or three eye-witnesses, to entitle them to cre-dibility.

DAME DE STAEL AND THE UNITED STATES This celebrated lady, the daughter of Necker, and who has 'filled so large a space in the eye' of the literary world, has bequeathed them three volumes under the title of "Considerations on the French Revolution."—These have just issued from the Press, and are read with the ulmost avidity in Europe. The Analectic Magazine of August has taken some notice of Madame de Stael, of her works, and particularly of the postburmous volumes, from which it has the posthumous volumes, from which it has made an interesting extract respecting the United States:

"It is known that she formed the resolution, at one period, of emigrating to these United States. We heartily wish she had done so, as she was prepared by her political opinions, to view our institutions with an unclouded and even affectionate eye.— She has not overlooked this nation, and we transcribe the following passages of the institutions with

Whence comes it then that many English allow themselves to speak with disdain of such a people. "They are shop kee ers," they repeat.—And how did the courtiers of Lewis XIV. talk of the English themselves? The people of Bonaparte's court also, what did they say? The Americans, it is true, declared war against England at a very ill-chosen time, with respect to Europe. But declared war against England at a very ill-chosen time, with respect to Europe. But America on this occasion looked only to what concerned her interest—and she can certainly not be suspected of having wish-ed to favor the imperial system. But could the declaring war unseasonally against England justify the burning of Washington? What is, there more honorable for mankind this new world, which has esta-d itself without the prejudices of the old—this new world, where religion is in all its fervor, without needing the support of the state to maintain it; where the law commands by the respect it inspires, with-out being enforced by any military pow-

The increasing heat of the sun, put an end to this part of the ceremony, when all retired to their houses, spending the day agreeable to the dictates of their tancy, disturbed only by the braying of asses, and the melody produced by beating on two pieces of board, as a signal for those to attend mass who felt inclined, the Turks suffering the latter music as application for fering the latter music as a substitute for bells, the sound of which, as I have obser-ved in a former letter, they universally de-

The ceremony used in a Greek church in some degree resembles that of the Roman—the former however work miracles while the latter confine themselves more to a belief in those performed by their ancestors. The inside is generally oblong, one end of which is filled with old chairs, relics, wax condies of various lengths, diameter and colour, and japanned faces of saints ongilt back-grounds, which would as readily pass for monkies, as men, were it not for the kind interposition of the natives, who are extremely anxious that strangers should justly appreciate their piety.

A poor man laboring under that most afflicting of all disorders, the leprosy, which was fast consuming his flesh, had been carried to the shrine of the Virgin Mary, and on offering a prayer, was freed from his melady, as well as the wounds it had already created! He was exhibited, but no one recollected of his ever having had the disorder! This circumstance, changed not the firm belief of the Greeks—the Catholics only doubted it, as the figure was of wood the firm belief of the Greeks—the Catholics only doubted it, as the figure was of wood instead of wax, that performed the cure— while the Turks, with the residue of the thhabitants, laughed at the stupid credulity

These Saints, if we may judge from the list in the calendar, are so numerous, that about one half of the Greek's time is wasted in this sort of idleness. The Turks have but little to boast of on this head—the have but little to boast of on this head—the Catholics are well provided with them—and the residue contrive to pass their time without any. How long fanalicism may last, it is difficult to imagine—perhaps, as long as there are fools to support h—but if we may judge by the progress that education has already made among the illiterate, the time cannot be far distant, when Reason, reigning triumphant, will banish by its lustre, the enfeebled rays of Superstition.

INTENDS opening an Evening School on the 15th inst. at 7 o clock, for the purpose of teaching the rudiments of the French language. Applicants can leave their names at Doctor Stabler's shop.

The following certificate is subjoined for their satisfaction:

[Translation.]

Having had the pleasure of a daily intercourse with Mr. Lanphier for several months past, we the undersigned certify, that from the profound knowledge he possesses of the French language, no person is more capable than he of teaching its rudiments and different idioms (which constitute a part of it), and indeed the most correct pronunciation. We have also had an opportunity of conversing with several of the scholars of the same gentleman, who, without ever having been in France, speak good French.

Notice.

DURSUANT to a decree of the Honorable Court of Charles County as a Court of Equity, I shall expose to public sale at Port-Tobacco, Charles county, Maryland, on Wednesday the 7th day of October west.

Port-Tobseco, Charles county, Maryland, on Wednesday the 7th day of October next, all the real estate of which General John Mitchell died seized, lying in Durham parish in said county, consisting of two tracts of land adjoiding each other, called Hollyspring Resurveyed and Meek's Park, containing about 730 acres. This estate is situated contignous to that of Colonel John Tayloe's, near Maryland Point, and within two miles of the most bealthy in that neighborhood, lies level, and the soil (a part of which is already strong), is thought to be susceptible of speedy improvement by the use of clover and plaister of paris. On this estate is a very considerable body of wood and timber, which if converted into moner would probably pay the purchase morey.

The improvements are a two story dwelling with two reoms and a passage on each floor, and a cellar under the whole, kitchen, Negro quarters, barn, and com boute, and an orchard of some of the choicest fruits.—A more particular description of it is deemed unnecessary, as it is presumable that those inclined to purchase will view the premises previous to the day of sale. It will be soid either entire or in parcels for the accommodation of purchasers.—The purchaser or purchasers will be required to enter into bond, with approved security for the payment of the Purchase money in one, two and three years, with interest, payable abnually from the day of sale; and on the ratification of the sale by the Coort, and the payment of the purchase money and on the ratification of the sale by the Coort, and the payment of the purchase money and not before, a deed or deeds in due torn will be made, conveying all the estate, right, title, interest and claim, to the premises that the said John Mitchell, deceased, held in the same, which title is indisputable.

On THURSDAY. October 15, if fair, if not, the next fair day, will be offered at public sale, on the premises, Lexington.

This estate, containing two thousand three bundred and fifty acres, more or less, being one half of the well known tract of land commonly called "Mason's Neck," situated on the Potomac, in the county of Fairfax, Virginia, is now offered for sale. About two-thirds of it is covered with an uncommon hear y growth of white and bit coak, hickory, pine, poplar are near the water's edge, whence it may be transported to the markets of the district of Columbia. (a distance of 20 miles only) where timber and fuel are always in demand, and without the expense and risk encountered in conveying those articles from situations further down the rivers the remainder is in cultivation, and furnished with every necessary building for that purpose; together with orchards and a blacksmith's shop. The of er improvements are a spacious and elegant dwelling-house, kitchen, dairy, smoke-house, office, icentain the control of the cost tasteful and costly design, filled with the rarest and most beautiful shrubberies and flowers, exotic and indigenous, all situated on an eminence, commanding a view of the rest of the tract, which extends in an unintercepted plain from the foot of the eminence to the Potomac and Occoquan, by which it is so far bounded as to render the expense of enclosing it comparatively nothing. The prospect moreover, of the surrounding country, diversified in every direction by sheets of water, is really beautiful beyond description. There are likewise attached to this estate four valuable however, the subscriber intents to reserve one of them and a few acres of land. The woods abound with deer in such numbers, that with a little care a gentleman might command a constant supply of venison for his table; and besides the large streams abovementioned, the various creeks and inlets that every where intersect the land are covered in the proper season with wild fowl of every description known in our waters. When to all these advantages is added the great natural fertility of the land, which is not exceeded perhaps in the western country, its adaption to improvement by the use of plaster, which has been proved by experiment, its vicinity to society, to market, le two manufacturing great-mills, to which the distance of conveyance by land and water is not more than 5 or 6 miles, it may with truth he pronounced the most valuable estate, of the same extent, in the whole range of country watered by the P-tom c. It will be sold entire or divided to suit pur-

The terms of sale will be one-third of the purchase money in hand, the remaining?

3ds in two equal annual payments, with interest from the day of sale, secured by a deed of trust on the land—which will be shewn in my absence to any person dispessed to purchase, by Mr. William Allison or Mr. Weston, residing on the premises.

PROPOSALS, By Gideon Fairman, John Binns and Charles S. Parker, To PUBLISH A Splendid Edition of Washington's Farewell Address,

To the People of the United States

THE world has seen enough of warriors and of Heroes—enough of Sta-tesmen—of men who have guided Ar-mies in the field, or dictated as Sages in the Cabinet, for the exclusive purpose of Ambition. History from its earliest page to the present day, has offered to our contemplation, only one Washington, but one man, whose dangers is war, and labors in in peace, were undertaken and supported with a single eye, to the benselication of Independent of the Declaration of Independent of Indepen ges in the Cabinet, for the exclusive ported with a single eye, to the bene-fit of his country; whose wonderful be discharged from imprisonment; and that by causing a copy of this order to be inserted in some one of the newspapers edited in the District of Columbia, once a week for two months successively before the third Monday of August aext, he give notice to his creditors to appear before the said Court, at Charlestown, in said county, on the said third Monday of August next, for the purpose of recommending a trystee for their benefit, and to show cause shy the said John Smith should not have the benefit of the several insolvent laws as prayed. Given under my hand this 20th day of June 1818.

Teste, JOHN BARNES, Clk.

American Citizen. His career of glory through life was unstained by crime; and his death was felt as a loss by every individual of that community, whose political existence was the fruit of his exertions.

THE PAREWELL ADDRESS of Gene. THE PAREWELL ADDRESS of General Washington is the condensed result of long experienced, matured reflection and strong anxiety for the permanent prosperity of his country. His advice concerning the great importance of maintaining indissolubly the federal Union: the danger of indulations the much in party feelings. ging too much in party feelings :the necessity of supporting public credit at home:—of maintaining public faith in all our transactions with foreign nations: of encouraging for-eign intercourse free frm foreign ateign Intercourse tree frm foreign at-tachments:—are so many lessons of prudence which we should do well to bear in constant remembrance. Why therefore should not his legacy of wis-dom and affection, be so published, as to admit of being constantly before our eyes? An ornament to our apartments, while it serves as a memento to guide our public feelings, and to manifest that the author lives in our memories?

To make it such, is the aim of the proposed Edition.

The Publishers are determined that the Address shall be printed on paper of the same quality and size as the splendid edition of the Declaration of Independence now engraving, & shall in all respects be a companion worthy that great State paper.

As errors are known from various causes to find their way into the most important writings, the publishers feel it their outy, not only to satisfy themselves, but to satisfy the public, of the plete the Design; of which the follow-ing is an outline:—The introductory part of the Address, in highly finish-ed ornamental permunship, shall form the upper part;—the other parts of the plate, shall be appropriate orna-ments;—in the centre below shall be engraved, from an historical design for this publication by Mr. Sully the Surrender of the British Army at York-town, October 19, 1781.

The Address itself shall be printed with type of a peculiar and a propri-ate character, designed for this pur-pose by Mr. Fairman, and to be cut and cast by our best artists. No more of the type shall be cast than will be necessary to execute this Address; & when it shall be compleated, the type and the matrices in which it was cast shall be atterly destroyed; so that no other work shall ever be executed by the same letter which shall have printed the "FAREWELL ADDRESS" of him who lived and died, first fit War; first in Peace, and first in the hearts of his Countrymen.

The paper, of the first quality, 56 by 26 inches, will be made by Mr. Amies. The LNK shall be carefully prepared, and of the best materials.

The signature of General Washington from which it is proposed to ex-ecute a fac simile for this publication, is that which he affixed to the Constitution of the United States, when he signed it as President of the Convention in which it was framed; Thus associating and concentrating some of the greatest events in the life of this great man and in the history of his Country.

The ornamental writing will be demanner; the ornamental parts of the design and vignette, will be engraved by G. FAREMAN: and the Typographical partexecuted by John Binus. They will take especial care of the execution of their several duties in this respect, and they will call to their aid, all that liberality, zeal and industry can command from the Sciences and Arts, so as to make the "Farewell Address" no mean specimen of the state of fthe Fine Arts in the United dence, in the month of December next. That the public may have a more perfectivities of the design and style of execution, than can be given in a proposal, of this Tribute to the memory of him who was "a Conqueror for the Freedom of his Country! A "Legislator for its Security! A Magistrate for its Happiness," it is not intended to solicit any Subsciptions until the Ornamental parts of the plate shall be executed. It will then be submitted for public inspection and pubmitted for public inspection and pubdence, in the month of Deccaber next. mitted for public inspection and pub-lic patronage, at five dollars a Copy, payable on the delivery of the Engrav-ing.
